

CONSIDERING A PRIVATE SCHOOL?

You can make a world of difference in your child's education with families and staff who recognize the value of a superior educational atmosphere.

You already know that selecting the best school for your child is an important responsibility. A well-rounded curriculum leads students toward high academic achievement and a strong sense of self-esteem.

Teachers teach what they are, not what they say. Instructors should be chosen for their love of learning, generosity of spirit, and respect for the sanctity of childhood. Their primary objective should be to recognize and develop each child's unique capabilities while maintaining consistent academic growth. In addition to being a teacher, they should be a guide and a coach.

You are invited to our Open House

New Student Testing: Saturday, February 6

At Carden Academy teamwork and respect are instilled in the classroom and embodied by our staff. Support, encouragement, and an open exchange of ideas between teachers, administrators, and parents keep the atmosphere at Carden Academy dynamic and growing.

With a warm, calm, lighthearted approach, our skilled teachers help to develop the students' powers of perception, concentration, and self-discipline while guiding them to use their innate powers of analytical thinking and individual problem solving.

- View the exceptional writing and composition skills of our students at each grade level
- Visit our classrooms and learn more about our accelerated math program
- Meet our Science teachers and see the hands-on learning the students are experiencing in our Pioneer Park
- Speak with current parents and students to see what a Carden education can do for your child
